The University of Utah, College of Education
Instructional Coaching Professional Development Series

An Urban Institute for Teacher Education (UI TE) and Granite School District Collaborative Project

Program Description
The Instructional Coaching Professional Development Series is designed to provide each participant with the requisite skills and knowledge necessary to become an effective instructional coach. Participants will complete an 18-credit program that is comprised of six 3-credit courses. Within this yearlong program, participants will attend four university summer courses, as well as complete two field-based practicums during the school year. The first course will be offered Summer 2018.

Summer 2018 Course
EDU 6950-046: Foundations of Instructional Coaching
The purpose of this introductory course is to provide participants with the requisite knowledge of the theoretical underpinnings of the effective instructional coach.

Class dates: July 9th - 13th from 8:00-4:00. 3 credits
Registration link: https://continue.utah.edu/contracts/edu12/1186

Contact Information
Instructor:
Kerry Herman, PhD
kerry.herman@utah.edu

Tuition: Course is $400