The Trauma-Informed Classroom
(A Course for In-service Teachers)

Educators will develop their own learning goals related to the framework of the course and, based on the needs of their students and instructional context, design and implement trauma-informed structures, experiences, and interventions for their classrooms.

Cost: $110, 3 credit hours

This course is for K-12 Educators in Salt Lake, Ogden, Murray, Provo and Park City.

Space in class is limited. Application for the course can be found here: https://goo.gl/forms/mEPWDfJDNAVxBXxo1

Course Schedule

Summer 2018
2 days in person meetings, Aug 1 & 2.
9:00-5:00 pm
Location TBD.

Fall 2018
Practicum-Blended Learning, an online community with 8 in-person meetings.
In-person meetings are from 12:00 - 3:00 pm at the University of Utah, FASB Rm 303
Dates: Aug 18, Sept 22, Oct 27 & Dec 1

Spring 2019
Practicum-Blended Learning, an online community with 8 in-person meetings.
In-person meetings are from 12:00 - 3:00 pm at the University of Utah, FASB Rm 303
Dates: Aug 18, Sept 22, Oct 27 & Dec 1

Note: This course discusses trauma and trauma's impact on individuals, families, and communities. While this class employs components of psycho-education, it is NOT a trauma support group, nor clinical support for individual trauma, nor an appropriate place for individuals to disclose/process their own individual traumatic experiences. Teachers who are easily triggered, or who are unsure of their ability to discuss sensitive issues (e.g.: poverty, physical/sexual abuse, neglect) may find this course challenging in ways that may not be productive without additional therapeutic support for which each individual is responsible. This course is offered in partnership with the University of Utah College of Social Work and University Neighborhood Partners, under the clinical supervision of Julianne Rabb, LCSW. julianne.rabb@partners.utah.edu